WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 17, 1884.

The Hawaiian Legislature Session 1884.

Eighty-Sixth Day, Aug. 17th, 1884.

Assembly convened at the usual hour, and after prayer by the Chaplain, the Secretary read the minutes of the previous session.

Hon. A. S. Cleghorn from the Committee on Commerce presented a report on the bill to regulate the landing of patients, recommending its passage. Report adopted, and bill ordered to a third reading on the 18th inst.

Hon. C. K. Bishop from the Select Committee on which had been referred a bill to amend the law relating to the sale of land, reported, submitting a substitute bill with the name of the grantee left out, to be supplied by the Assembly. The bill had been referred to the committee on the preparation of the new bill. It obliges the grantee to begin to work within one year and complete it within three years. The bill was reported in its original form, but the committee recommended that Representative Dole be permitted to introduce a separate bill for that purpose.

Report received and approved, and bill read a second time. It was then referred to the committee on which had been referred a bill to amend the law relating to the sale of land, and to amend the law relating to the sale of land, and to amend the law relating to the sale of land.

Representative Baker offered a resolution that $200 be appropriated for the expenses of lighting the stock in Mr. Linn's building, for the purpose of the Hawaiian Gazette. The 'Order of the Day' now being moved and carried the following bills were brought up:

Third reading of a bill introduced by the Attorney-General, to protect creditors against fraudulent insolvency. Hon. H. A. Wideman stated that the bill was an outgrowth, originating out of a bill introduced by Representative Dole, to amend the law relating to the sale of land. It was in reality a bill for the benefit of whole sales against retailers.

Representative Dole approved the bill, but he said the objectionable classes of Chinese did not comprise a great class of the whole. He said that he had done a great deal of work in this country, and he had seen the difficulty of settling Chinese insolvent estates, he said there were merchants selling English in their books whose accounts were equally unmanageable. The Attorney-General thought it was an injustice, for which the representative of the Chinese Government there might well ask an explanation.

Dole held that although in explaining this bill was not class legislation, yet in fact it was such and so intended to be. The bill was also unconstitutional. The Attorney-General thought it was an injustice, for which the representative of the Chinese Government there might well ask an explanation.

Representative Dole moved that the bill be referred to the committee on which had been referred a bill to amend the law relating to the sale of land, and to amend the law relating to the sale of land, and to amend the law relating to the sale of land.

Report received and approved, and bill read a second time. It was then referred to the committee on which had been referred a bill to amend the law relating to the sale of land, and to amend the law relating to the sale of land, and to amend the law relating to the sale of land.

Report received and approved, and bill read a second time. It was then referred to the committee on which had been referred a bill to amend the law relating to the sale of land, and to amend the law relating to the sale of land, and to amend the law relating to the sale of land.
